

For whatsoever things were written aforetime
were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

Romans 15:4